

GILDA HAS BEEN STOLEN

Gilda is a friendly, beautiful Red Fronted Macaw. Many of you who have been to Parrots Naturally know her.

Gilda was brazenly grabbed from a perch in the front of our store as customers watched on August 4 at about 1:15 pm.

The thieves are two large male Hispanics who ran out and jumped into a silver-grey VW sedan, (may be a Jetta). The car looked brand new and had paper dealer plates from Finley, Findley or Findlay motors or automotive.

Red Fronteds are a dark, olive green small macaw with a brilliant red front (forehead) and top of the head. She has a distinctive orange patch on her face and orange on her shoulders and underwings. They are not considered mini-macaws, but are the smallest of the large macaws weighing around 550 gms. Gilda knows her name and will reply Hi Gilda when you call her. She also waves when you wave to her.

We are offering a large reward for her return. If someone approaches you offering to sell a red fronted or any other kind of macaw, please, please say that you are interested and will pay a fair price. Try anything to stall and then, call all of the numbers below.

If you are a bird or pet store, please, say that you have a customer that is interested. We will guarantee $1,500 if you can negotiate.

Call me anytime (night or day) if you have a lead.
